PROGRAMME DESCRIPTION

In line with the EU Action Document for Coastal Economic Development in Kenya “Go Blue”, the Programme intends to contribute to coastal economic development in an inclusive, integrated, participatory and sustainable manner.

The Italian Agency for Development Co-operation (AICS) is engaged in supporting efforts by the Government of Kenya to boost blue economy related growth in line with the Nairobi Statement of Intent on Advancing the Global Sustainable blue economy, and as a contribution to the Partnership between the EU and the Government of Kenya to advance the Blue Economy Agenda through Coastal Development (“Go Blue”).

With an overall objective to contribute to coastal economic development in an inclusive, integrated, participatory and sustainable manner, the Programme aims to overcome key constraints that limit production, value addition, marketing and access to markets for small scale fisheries actors and cassava smallholder farmers and their households through a value chain approach.

To this end, the action will promote interventions that would allow for strengthened economic performance of small-scale fisheries and cassava MSMEs and enhanced inclusiveness, social and environmental sustainability of the 2 value chains. Access to training opportunities – including on technical skills and social awareness – will be provided to both small-scale fisheries producers and cassava smallholder farmers ensuring participation of women, youth, vulnerable and marginalized groups. By reinforcing their capacities, small-scale fisheries producers and smallholder farmers will be able to access better markets with higher quality fish and crops that are sustainably managed and thus achieve better market prices that let them realise economic and social goals (better working conditions and decent jobs), mainly through value chain improvements. Indeed, the expected improvements will stimulate and increase the supply of project commodities and as an outcome of stimulation of supply, new jobs will be created and households' socio-economic conditions will be improved.

The targeting of all activities will accrue benefits to women and youth, and will promote the transition to an inclusive Blue economy.

The success intervention logic builds on assumptions related to a) effective, capable and client-oriented institutions, b) a favourable political and policy environment, c) the market (demand of project commodities, offer of inputs, offer and demand of financial services).

To this end, the project finally aims at empowering the JKP Secretariat to effectively deliver its mandate through integrated strategies and economic blueprints that promote gender equitable resource access, control of assets and benefits for fishery-dependent households as well as policies and programs better aligned to support improved livelihood opportunities, increased incomes and adaptive capacity.
